

Connie Dieken's Suggested Introduction

Connie Dieken is the president of onPoint Communication™. She's the co-author of 4 books on business communication-- she trains, consults and speaks to organizations internationally.

If you've ever channel-surfed with a TV remote control, you've been part of Connie's research. She spent two decades in the cut-throat world of broadcasting as a news anchor and talk show host. She's one of the few women inducted into the Radio and Television Broadcaster's Hall of Fame®. She's earned more than a dozens Emmys®, Tellys® and Communicator Awards.

Connie uses her insight from the competitive broadcasting business to help organizations create a framework to communicate for results.

She's passionate about helping people build better buy-in, stronger influence, and get to "yes" faster and more often.

Please help me welcome...Connie Dieken!
